From: Kathleen E. Schrader, Director of Student Life
Date: October 29, 1993

As many of you know, Ann Marshall, Assistant Director of Student Life for Union Operations, has been out since early August and has just recently had surgery to remove most of her thyroid. We are happy to report that, while she still hasn't fully regained her speaking voice, that Ann is doing well and hopes to return before the end of the current semester.

While she's not up to phone calls, I am sure that she'd appreciate notes or cards. Ann's address is: 5758 North Twenty Street, Phila., Pa. 19138.

FACULTY SENATE, LA SALLE UNIVERSITY
MINUTES, MEETING #3
October 12, 1993

Present: Paul Brazina, Gary Clabaugh, Richard DiDio, Preston Feden, Marianne Gauss, Patricia Gerrity, Richard Geruson, William Grosnick, William Hall, FSC, Prafulla Joglekar, Emery Mollenhauer, FSC, Elizabeth Paulin, Joseph Seltzer, Edward Sheehy, FSC, Joseph Volpe, Zane Wolf.

Excused: Nicholas Angerosa, David Cichowicz, Craig Franz, FSC, Mary Lou McHugh, John Seydow.

The meeting was called to order by the President at 2:37 p.m.

Two minor amendments to the minutes of the second meeting of the 1993-94 Faculty Senate (20 September 1993) were made. The minutes were then approved [12-0-0] as amended. (N.B.: 4 Senators were not yet present.)

The President then provided the Senate with an informational update, which is summarized below:

1. University Council held its first meeting of the fall semester on October 4. At that meeting,
  - The Vice President of Business Affairs presented a financial report for the 1992-93 fiscal year. This report showed an operating deficit of $900,000. Nevertheless, the university's net worth increased by approximately $2 million due to market investments.
  - Council voted to approve a new masters program in Communication Arts.
2. Members of FAP decided that Richard Geruson will be the new faculty representative to University Council.

Reports from the standing committees of the Faculty Senate were then made.

The Chair of the Academic and Faculty Affairs Committee reported that they will soon be gathering information concerning faculty benefits (such as health and disability benefits, pre- and post-baccalurate benefits for full-time faculty, etc.) at La Salle and at other comparable institutions. In addition, they are seeking comparative information regarding sabbaticals, teaching loads, etc. And finally, they will be requesting information about the amount of money spent by La Salle on promotion, lectures, duplicating, books, subscriptions, etc., in order to find out if spending in this area of instruction keeps up with general spending.

A member of FAP then reported on the committee's meeting with the Vice President of Business Affairs. At this meeting, the committee was told of the university's weak financial picture. They were also informed that raises for the faculty would have to be considered in light of enrollment figures which will be ready at the end of October. The Vice President of Business Affairs also clarified the use of past surpluses from the "current operating fund." Members of the committee were told that the surplus flows into the quasi-endowment fund and is not normally available for future use. The income earned from those funds, however, is available if needed.

There was no update from the Student Affairs and Campus Life Committee.

A member of the Committee on Committees reported that the Senate must make two assignments to the Leadership Committee.

At this point, the discussion turned back to the Faculty Affairs and Planning Committee (FAP). In particular, several Senators indicated that it is not clear what role FAP has in the process of determining faculty raises. Can FAP negotiate with the Administration over the issue of faculty raises? Is FAP simply a communication conduit for the Administration or does this committee have a role to play in the process of determining whether faculty get raises and if so how much? If the committee does have a role, what exactly is it? One Senator suggested, and the Senate agreed, that the members of FAP consider all that was discussed and report back to the full Senate on what they believe FAP's role should be in this process. In addition, they should provide some recommendations on how to strengthen that role.

The Senate also agreed that it would be beneficial to call an open meeting of the Senate in order to hear the views of the faculty on salary and benefit questions. The date and time of this open meeting will be discussed in the next Executive Committee Meeting on 14 October 1993.

The next item considered by the Senate was the Proposed New Tenure and Promotion Appeals Process. A Senator involved in the revisions of the documents presented at the second meeting of the Faculty Senate, reported on the revisions that were made in light of the suggestions received by several Senators. This Senator highlighted the fact that the new proposal contains provisions that will allow the Tenure and Promotion Appeals Committee to have the same information that was made available to the Tenure and Promotion Committee. As a consequence, the members of the Appeals Committee will be bound by the same rules of confidentiality as the members of the Tenure and Promotion Committee. A motion was made that we adopt the handbook revisions as amended as well as the document outlining the purpose and responsibility of the Appeals Committee.

A discussion of the revisions then ensued. Several concerns were raised by various Senators: The Appeals Committee is not given enough time to thoroughly investigate claims. No burden is placed on the candidate. Connecting the number of votes with the appeals process is seen as a problem -- especially if the process is capricious. No specific examples are given of what the words arbitrary, capricious, confidentiality, etc., actually mean in the context tenure and promotion appeals. If problems with the process exist, they are largely at the department level and with the chair's presentation to the Tenure and Promotion Committee.

Suggestions were then made on how to amend the revised proposal. It was suggested that the Handbook Revisions for page 46, part (d) should be amended to read:

Information related to the fairness of the process, including presentations to and discussion by the Tenure and Promotion Committee and/or department deliberations will be available to the Appeals Committee. The Appeals Committee will be bound by the same rules of confidentiality as the Tenure and Promotion Committee.

It was also suggested that the Handbook Revisions for page 48, 4th paragraph should be amended to read:

Information related to the fairness of the process, including presentations to and discussion by the Tenure and Promotion Committee and/or department deliberations will be available to the Appeals Committee. The Appeals Committee will be bound by the same rules of confidentiality as the Tenure and Promotion Committee.

These amendments were considered "friendly amendments," and therefore no vote was taken.

It was also noted that the word "presentations" refer to the candidate's dossier and the presentation by the chair to the Tenure and Promotion Committee.

A motion was then made to adopt the Handbook Revisions as amended. The motion passed [10-5-1].

Another motion was then made to propose a change to the Faculty Handbook so that every person who is denied promotion can appeal, no matter what the number of positive votes received. Thus, a motion was made to replace the sentence beginning on page 45 of the current Handbook that reads,

A candidate for promotion may appeal an unfavorable decision if he/she has received three or four positive votes among the nine votes cast by the Tenure and Promotion Committee.

with

A candidate for promotion may appeal an unfavorable decision.

The motion passed [10-4-1]. (N.B., one Senator left before this vote was taken.)

It was observed that this second proposed handbook revision would have to be discussed with the Provost and Deans, because it represented a substantial change to the appeals process which had originally been agreed to by the Administration. The President agreed to take this new suggested change to the Provost.

The Senate then turned its attention to the Market Review and Appeals Committee. The President of the Senate reported that the Provost is interested in the rejuvenation of this committee. (It had previously been reported that this committee no longer meets, due in large part to confusion over its charge.) In particular, the Provost wants the committee to analyze statistical data compiled from other colleges and universities in order to determine where each department at La Salle ranks (with respect to faculty compensation) relative to others nationwide.

This charge requires that the Market Review and Appeals Committee be comprised of faculty with a solid knowledge of statistics and compensation issues. The executive committee believes the Senate should start over in selecting members for this committee so that they can better meet this charge. In addition, the President observed that Senate archives suggest the Senate originally intended for two members of this committee to be from the School of Business. As the committee is currently constituted, only one member is from the School of Business. It was also suggested that it might be beneficial to have a member of FAP on this committee.

Several Senators expressed their concern that this charge to analyze statistical data would be overwhelming for full-time faculty. Throughout the discussion it became apparent that the Senate felt this would be asking too much of the faculty.

Nonetheless, the Senate voted unanimously [14-0] on a motion to reconstitute the Market Review and Appeals Committee. It was decided that further discussion with the Provost and the Senate will be necessary in order to determine the specific charge of this committee.

The Senate adjourned at 4:50 p.m.

Elizabeth A. Paulin

Discussion:

In view of the significant number of new members, the Chair asked each of those present to introduce themselves, and welcomed all to the Committee function for the academic year 1993-1994.

1. The minutes of the May 12, 1993 meeting were reviewed. The motion to accept was made, seconded, and approved by the Committee members present (9-0).
2. The Committee then undertook the election of new Committee Chair. The motion to nominate and elect Ms. Kathi McNichol was made, seconded and approved by the Committee members present (9-0).
3. The Chair indicated the Committee will continue to discuss the many athletic programs with student/athletes. The Director - Academic Support/Student Services Mr. Joseph Gillespie will be invited to a meeting to allow the Committee to become more familiar with his support and interaction with the student/athletes. The Committee's contacts and interviews are seen as adding more breadth to the interview/contact program, in addition to the more formal mandated programs.
4. Dr. Heath usually attends the initial meeting, and took this occasion to chat with the group, citing the opportunity to speak with the new members. There will be numerous issues that will come before the Committee on which they can provide counsel to the Vice President; some will be ongoing, as well as new issues. He expressed his thanks to the Committee for last year's work, particularly the review and revision of the Charge, and the timely administrative efforts of the Chair/Committee.

He asked that we constantly keep in mind "What is the role of the Committee?", and continue our contacts with student/athletes. The Committee has gained trust and confidence in past discussions; maintaining and increasing these qualities should be emphasized.

Dr. Heath discussed major concerns for athletics. The list included:

- . Student-athlete satisfaction
- . Allocation of limited resources
- . Conference affiliation
- . Hayman Hall Renovation

5. Mr. Mullen reported on the following subjects:

The Athletics department is interested in improved sensitivity in the relationships with student/athletes. They are also interested in the non-athletic needs (social, academic, personal, etc.) of the athletes, and in having members of the Faculty involved and participating in support and activity programs.

We will continue to focus on the basic questions of "Where are we?" and "Where are we going?" in our athletic program.

The Raftery roast evening at the Taj Mahal in Atlantic City was very successful. There were approximately 250 in attendance, local sports personalities presented a good speakers program, and the Taj Mahal was very gracious in hosting and presenting the program.

He indicated he would defer comment on the subjects of the Conference, Hayman Hall, and the importance of Financial Aid in attracting athletes to upcoming meetings.

6. Mr. Lawless came in and was introduced to the Committee. The Chair reported that she had been advised by the Director of Student Life, Ms. Schrader, that the request was being handled in conformance with correct procedure. Mr. Lawless commented on various aspects of the proposed program. Many competitors have acquired their own helmets, gloves, and shoulder pads. Consequently, equipment costs will be minimal and supported by club fund raising. They would anticipate playing the backup squads of the local established teams, and foresaw recruiting at many local schools with newly established programs. They will practice at various facilities which become available, with safety nets being used when required. Lacrosse is very popular, there is high interest in it as a non-scholarship sport and consequently, there are financial rewards in additional tuition income. Mr. Lawless responded to several further questions.

The motion to approve Men's Lacrosse as a Club sport was made, seconded, and approved by the Committee members present (11-0).

7. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, October 26, 1993 - 3:30 PM. The Chair will invite Mr. Gillespie to this meeting, and Dr. O'Connor will make some arrangements for student/athletes to visit.

OFFICE OF THE DEAN • SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
PHILADELPHIA, PA 19141 • (215) 951-1040

MEMO TO: Faculty and Administration

FROM: Joseph A. Kane

DATE: November 3, 1993

I am pleased to announce that Walter Schubert, Associate Professor of Finance, has been appointed to a two year term as the Lindback Professor of Business Administration effective January, 1994. He will succeed Lynn Miller who recently completed her term in this position.

The criteria for awarding the Professorship indicate that the recipient "...should be known as an effective teacher and have achieved a notable degree of success in his/her research and publication".

The three major responsibilities of the position are:

- * to continue as an effective teacher working with both day and evening students,
- * to continue to enhance his/her own stream of research and publication, and
- * to act as a role model and in particular to provide support for other faculty in developing their research and publication effectiveness.

Walt, who joined the La Salle faculty in 1980, indeed meets the criteria for the position. He is known as an effective teacher in the increasingly complex world of financial investments, speculative markets and portfolio analysis as well as in public finance and financial markets and institutions.

His earlier publications focused on issues in public finance. While continuing this research stream, more recently Walt has expanded his focus to include various aspect of the valuation of financial assets, both those which are publicly traded and those which are privately held.

In his new capacity Walt expects to further expand the role of the Lindback Professor in working in a supportive and developmental role with colleagues.

I want to take this opportunity to offer thanks and congratulations to Lynn Miller for her accomplishments while serving as Lindback Professor. In addition to her own successful research during this period, Lynn has supported the work of other faculty as a reader, through expansion of the Brown Bag Seminars and as the initiator of the SBA Working Paper Series which now lists some three dozen papers.

Re: The Masque's upcoming season and purchasing of tickets

I would like to take this opportunity to invite all La Salle personnel to an evening of theatre here on campus in the Dan Rodden Theatre located in the Union Building. The Masque has again compiled another exciting and entertaining season for all our audiences.

The Masque, La Salle's only student theatre organization, has been bringing professional student theatre to the campus for over 50 years. We feel the 1993-1994 season will be just as successful.

We open our season Friday, November 12th with the cynical and witty, comedic play Museum, by American playwright Tina Howe. Ms. Howe has also written several other plays notably, Painting Churches and Coastal Disturbances. In February, we focus our energies towards the musical comedy Sugar, which is based off the movie Some Like It Hot, which starred Marilyn Monroe, Jack Lemmon and Tony Curtis. Finally, we wrap up our season with the popular drama Steel Magnolias.

Tickets for Museum may be purchased now. The show dates are as follows: November 12, 13, 18, 19, and 20 with curtain at 8pm. There is also a Sunday, November 14th performance with curtain at 2pm. Ticket prices for all La Salle personnel are $6.00 dollars with La Salle ID. Other prices are as follows: General Admission: $8.00 dollars, Senior Citizen: $6.00 dollars, Student: $4.00 dollars, and La Salle Student: $2.00 dollars with ID.

ATTENTION:

This theatre season The Masque is proud to announce a special Season Ticket for all La Salle Administration, Faculty and Staff. Now instead of paying the separate price of $6.00 dollars for each of the plays and $7.00 dollars for the musical for a total of $19.00 dollars; all La Salle personnel can now purchase and reserve their seat for all three shows for the season ticket price of $15.00 dollars, a savings of $4.00 dollars just for buying your tickets in advance! This special season ticket offer will be available only to La Salle personnel.

The Masque invites everyone to take advantage of this season ticket rate. If you would like to reserve tickets or would like more information, please call 951-1410 or stop by our box office in the Union Building.
